Synopsis:

Silvana, the depressed wife of a provincial industrialist, takes it into her head that Marie, their young Romanian maid, is stealing valuable objects from the villa. With no proof and against her husband's wishes, Silvana decides to dismiss Marie without notice. After wandering desperately from place to place, Marie finds shelter with her former boyfriend, Ionut. The young man has just been released from prison and now shares a hovel with his teenage younger brother Igor. The long-extinguished passion between Marie and Ionut flares up again.
